At this time I wish to thank the members of the Joint Standing Committee on Fire Department for their wonderful coöperation, which has at all times been very helpful. They have taken great interest in the department and their labors have been of material value to the city. I think it proper at this time to mention some of the things that the committee accomplished during the past year. To begin with, they cut the appropriation $1,000 below the amount asked for in 1931; they paid out almost $1,800 that was not anticipated at the beginning of the year, such as feeding the firemen at the Morrill Block fire, buying one thousand feet of hose (which was an emergency order) right after the big fire; making necessary repairs on the different trucks; equipping the ladder truck with new tires to replace the ones that had been in service nearly eight years; equipping the International truck with dual wheels in place of the single ones that it was originally equipped with, and cutting down the front wheels on the White truck to enable us to procure tires that would fit them, which we could not do before. Added to this unusual showing, the committee turned back into the City Treasury $488.00, which in itself speaks volumes for efficiency and interest on the part of the management.

At this time I wish to thank the officers and members of the Fire Department for their coöperation which has at all times been manifested, especially at the Morrill Block fire, the largest fire that the Dover Department has had to battle. Their duties have been discharged in a very satisfactory manner.

Respectfully submitted,

CARROLL M. NASH,
Chief of Department.

ANNUAL REPORT
of the
BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS

To His Honor the Mayor, and Gentlemen of the City Councils:

We have the honor to submit herewith a detailed report of the business transacted by the Dover Police Department for the year ending December 31, 1932, and also a schedule of the fines received from the Municipal Court and converted into the City treasury.

Governor John G. Winant re-nominated Owen Coogan for Police Commissioner for the term beginning September 7, 1932. This nomination was immediately confirmed by the Council.

The organization of the Board remains the same as for the previous year: Charles E. Lord, chairman; Thomas W. Webb, clerk; Owen Coogan.

There were several changes in the personnel of the department during the year just closed. On the 13th of April, Charles C. Crowley, city marshal, and Raymond P. Loughlin, assistant marshal, resigned their positions, and the vacancies were filled by the appointment of Andrew H. McDaniel, then high sheriff of Strafford County, as city marshal, and John J. Murphy, as assistant marshal, their term of service beginning May 1st. In the interim the interests of the department were vested in Sergeant William D. Lothrop.

A readjustment plan was adopted early in the year to eliminate the maintenance cost of street signals. Traffic beacons were discontinued at the junction of Silver Street and Central Avenue; at Grove and Sixth Streets; at Atlantic Avenue and Portland Avenue; at Washington and Locust Streets, and at Central Avenue and Sixth Street, causing a saving in operating cost of $40.00 for each beacon discontinued. Stop signs were installed in their stead. One-way street signs were placed at Winter and Cedar Streets, agreeably to an order adopted by the City Councils.

On October 28th, Patrolman William S. Scanlon passed away, after a brief illness. His death was deeply felt by his colleagues on the force. He was a good citizen, and efficient in the discharge of his duties. First reserve officer George E. Fleming was promoted to fill the vacancy on November 7th, and Alphonso M. Ayer advanced to first reserve officer.

The deficit in the department expenditures is largely attributable to unpaid bills for the year 1931, namely: stop signs installed, $850.75; maintenance of special officer at Barbadoes Pond, $150.00; New Eng. Tel. & Tel. Co. increasing their rates $16.00 per month; replacement of copper wire cable for traffic lights destroyed by Morrill Block fire, $99.50; and special police protection over ruins, $105.00.

While the number of patients admitted during the past year ranks third, numerically, in the tabulation of admissions for the past twenty-seven years, yet it heads the list in the number of those who received free or partially free service. The ratio of free patients treated reached a total of 23.52 per cent. of the total registration. Some conception of the charitable work performed by the hospital may be gathered from the fact that the equivalent of twelve years' continuous service was rendered impecunious patients during the past twelve months, exclusive of those who were treated for less than the regulation rates.

The average daily revenue received from paying patients was $3.00; the average daily cost per patient, as determined by the ratio the number of days' service rendered bears to the actual cost of maintenance, was $5.16, or $2.16 per day in excess of the average daily revenue received. Upon this basis of $5.16, the service rendered non-paying patients would aggregate $22,910.40.

Of the 1,067 patients admitted, 702 were from Dover; fifty-eight from South Berwick, Maine; forty-nine from Durham; thirty-nine from Somersworth; twenty-eight from Rollinsford; nineteen from North Berwick, Maine; fifteen from Rochester, ten each from Portsmouth, N. H., and Berwick and Kittery, Maine, and the remaining 127 were from widely-separated towns and cities in New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey, Illinois, and South Carolina.

On the 7th day of September last, Mr. James Cavanaugh, who for twenty-five years faithfully served the city as a member of the board of trustees of the hospital, answered the final summons and entered into eternal rest. Mr. Cavanaugh won the respect and sincere regard of his associates on the board by his wise counsel, his unfaltering championship of the institution he was called upon to serve, and his unselfish devotion to the welfare of his less fortunate fellow citizens.

Mr. Cavanaugh was succeeded upon the board of trustees by Hon. Michael J. White, who, while mayor of the City of Dover, nominated Mr. Cavanaugh for membership on the board. Mr. White was unanimously confirmed as a member of the board, and on the 7th day of November, just two months after the death of his predecessor, took the oath of office and entered upon his duties.

On the 26th of October, 1932, the board of trustees, with sincere regret, received the resignation of Dr.

Roscoe G. Blanchard as a member of the surgical staff of the hospital, following more than a quarter of a century of devoted service to the institution and to those who were placed under his professional care.

In recognition of his long connection with the institution, Dr. Blanchard was appointed a member, emeritus, of the consulting board of physicians and surgeons of the hospital.

Upon the retirement of Dr. Blanchard, Dr. Bernard J. Manning was appointed to the surgical staff, and Dr. Peter J. Boyle to the medical staff. Dr. E. C. Batchelder succeeded Dr. Blanchard as chairman of the training school committee.

The past year has been a strenuous one for the Superintendent of the hospital, and her corps of assistants, yet the consciousness that those long and weary hours of service ultimately brought restored health to those entrusted to their charge, and hope and happiness to the family circle from whence they came, in a large measure overshadows the memory of those days of sacrificing toil which they were called upon to perform.

For all details relative to the internal administration of affairs, you are respectfully referred to the detailed reports of the Superintendent and other department officials hereto attached and made a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

In common with hospitals all over the country, we have felt the need of greater economy which has been harder to enforce because of an increase in free bed work and a decrease in collections. We have admitted more patients than in 1931, many of them accident and emergency cases. These classes, especially accidents resulting from automobiles, present a very real problem. When litigation is involved, it means a long wait on the part of the hospital before payment is made, and often no collections can be obtained due to lack of funds because of no insurance.

It is necessary to maintain our standard of efficiency and give to those who come to us the kind of service to which they are entitled and which it is our duty to give. Modern surgical and medical procedure involve an expenditure of time and money difficult to understand by those unacquainted with the technique involved in all forms of treatment of the patient.

We have made our first purchase of books made possible by The George Benn Fund, and these books are the nucleus for a first-class medical library.

The staff of the hospital have held regular monthly meetings and have conformed in every way to the schedule which enables us to maintain our standard of a Class A hospital. The time spent by our staff in the treatment and care of our free bed patients is greatly appreciated by the Superintendent. This is always done cheerfully and willingly, and many times it must be most inconvenient for a busy doctor to leave his own practice to respond to the many calls he receives from the hospital when he is on service. I know of no class of men whose time means money, who give so much to the poor whom we have with us always.

The reports of the pathologist and the roentgenologist are appended to this report and both show a busy year.

The training school graduated three nurses in 1932. We have nineteen student nurses and a graduate nurse as supervisor of each department. Our nurses have had a busy year as we have had an unusual number of very ill patients and bad accident cases. There have been many nights when it has been necessary to call on duty six of the day nurses to help care for emergency work. We have a night nurse for every department, but do not expect these nurses to respond to emergencies and accidents. The supervising nurse of the maternity department is called on for the deliveries at night, in addition to two student nurses. The regular night nurse of the department is left absolutely free for the care of the other patients. The night supervisor is present at practically all of the deliveries at night.

Our thanks are again due to the Police Department for many courtesies. I wish to thank Mr. Albert S. Twombly for his helpful coöperation in getting emergency drugs to us from Boston by B. & M. service. This means the personal attention of Mr. Twombly which he so kindly gives.

My thanks are extended to the Board of Trustees for their generous coöperation and advice given in my numerous problems.

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE P. HASKELL, R. N.,

Superintendent.

ANNUAL REPORT of the SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee:

The importance and value of education is a matter upon which all people agree, probably more than upon any other question.

As evidence of this fact, we find the states making education compulsory, the raising of money for its maintenance compulsory, prescribing what shall be taught, prescribing qualifications for those who propose to teach, and in many other ways giving evidence of the fact that education is of vital importance to the welfare and continued existence of the civilization of the people. All states and nations seem agreed upon this point.

They are not in such complete agreement, however, upon what the nature of this process called education shall be. The average mind thinks of schools as places where the children are "taught lessons" from textbooks, and where the chief business of the teachers is to "make the children mind," and where examinations are given, the results of which are duly noted on report cards, showing how well or ill the lessons have been learned.

The expensive and extravagant system of schools in one generation becomes the economical system in the succeeding generation. In other words, education is not static. The standards of one era become inadequate for the next. Our educational system is a living, growing, vital and changing affair and reflects the will and demands of the people. In early days people needed and demanded little beyond the three R's, so-called. Life was comparatively simple, and education, at least public education, was simple, too. With the progress of time life became more complex,—richer, larger, more expanded, and public education followed suit. It is hard to realize that courses in geography, history, physiology, music and drawing were unknown in the school systems of a comparatively short time ago. Today they are all required by law, and it is perhaps strange that the latest subject required by law, as enacted by the state legislation, is that which relates to health, a matter which might be thought to deserve first place, if school subjects were to be rated in sequence of relative importance.

A "standard school" as defined in the law, is one maintained for at least thirty-six weeks in each year, in a suitable and sanitary building, equipped with approved furniture, books, maps and other necessary appliances, taught by an approved teacher, directed and supervised by an approved superintendent, with suitable provision for the health and physical welfare of all pupils.

Our local Dover system of schools meets all these requirements,—but we do not go much beyond these limits. Many school systems go considerably beyond these requirements, but we are a conservative people and we have a conservative system of public schools. We have never been extravagant in the matter of public education in our city. The truth of these statements is self-evident. Our buildings are, with one exception, not only old but positively aged. Our courses taught fulfill every requirement of the law—but not much more. Our teachers' salary schedules are lower than in other school systems comparable in size with ours. The same is true regarding the salaries of clerks and janitors, and our transportation costs are lower. In other school systems of the state, we find many with expensive and modern junior high schools, with modern and expensive courses; special teachers, rooms and courses for backward pupils; special courses and teachers for guidance, for deans of girls, for tests and measurements. Our own system has none of these things. Furthermore, our schools are very economically managed in the use of books and supplies, a very justifiable form of economy, faithfully pursued by teachers whose habits are such from long practice. I know of no point where our schools might be deemed extravagant. Viewed from every angle, they are very economically administered.

School Boards are using the present period of hard times by endeavoring to eliminate waste and, if possible, improve efficiency, but an examination of the expenditures of our municipal agencies will attest that waste is not conspicuous in our school department.

City governments are seeking relief from present economic distress by centering attention upon a reduction of taxes. Schools come under scrutiny, because substantial sums have been expended in order to maintain our policy of sending all our children through the elementary schools, nearly all to the high schools, and one out of every five or six to college.

Increasing public budgets in some localities have grown to such proportions as to threaten seriously the financial stability of such municipalities. In some places schools have been closed or school terms have been shortened, or schools have been run on half-day schedules; practically no equipment or supplies have been bought and buildings have been allowed to fall into a state of disrepair. These things have not happened in Dover, and the reason for it has been that the City of Dover has always conducted its schools on a conservative policy of rigid economy. There are no frills to lop off, no luxuries to discontinue. The graded salary list has been maintained here because its level has always been so low. When I speak of a "conservative policy of rigid economy," which has been characteristic of this School Department, my meaning becomes clear if we glance at the record of the graded salary schedule. In the year 1910, a teacher in her first year received a salary of $250. per year! The second year, $270., and the third year, $310.; $350. the fourth; $400. the fifth; $460. the sixth, and $500., —the maximum, in her seventh year of service. The salary schedule begins today at $900. the first year and increases $50. yearly, for seven years, to a maximum of $1,200., a barely living wage, and one not guaranteed to keep the wolf from the door in old age. There are no frills or luxuries in the curricula and none in this salary schedule.

It is hard to find a point in our system where economy beyond that already in practice may be set in action. Our classes are too large even now, and could not be increased without harmful consequences. The school year could not be shortened to the point of saving money. The state law would not permit it. Our various departments of health, physical education, mechanic arts, music and drawing are considered essentials of modern education, and the elimination of any one of them would mean the return to a narrow, uninspired and inefficient program of education, fraught with danger to the next generation. I am confident that our school department will carry on, and maintain its well-known high standard. I am informed that the scholastic standing of our students entering the University of New Hampshire this year is higher than usual, and it has always been high. This speaks well for our high school. Retrenchment in our school budget would almost certainly operate to lower our standing. Every taxpayer (and we are all taxpayers) is eager for as low a rate as possible, but it would be unfair, unwise, and ultimately dangerous to stint on the appropriation for a department which all agree is more constructive and more valuable to society than any other.

We shall lose approximately $4,000. in our income from tuition next year if the proposed high school in Durham is set in operation.

The reports from the heads of our various departments are of interest and show the nature and extent of the work which has been done, that of our manual training department under the direction of its new head, Mr. Bingham, being especially commendable.

The outstanding factor in the mounting costs of public education in our city (as elsewhere) is the increase in high school attendance, which has doubled in a decade, and has become about as common as grade school attendance. It is clear that parents want high school instruction for their children, and the community supplies such instruction at public expense. The expansion of the curriculum at the high school has added considerably to the school budget. I refer to our excellent mechanic arts department, which has come into being in response to a demand from these same families. I do not take it that these parents wish to suspend this part of our educational program, which they have supported so loyally up to this time. The school supplies courses for many different types of pupils and I can see no prospect of any radical reduction in cost, without some such curtailment, which would mean a return to the budgets and programs of a generation ago. I am firmly convinced that the people of Dover are unwilling to do this.

Our school system is not overexpanded. It is well organized and very economically administered.

In closing, may I quote a recent utterance of the President of the United States. He says:

“Our nation faces the acute responsibility of providing a right-of-way for the American child. In spite of our economic, social and governmental difficulties, our future citizens must be built up now. We may delay other problems but we cannot delay the day-to-day care and instruction of our children. * * * There is no safety for our republic without the education of our youth. That is the first charge upon all citizens and local governments.”

Respectfully submitted,

JACOB E. WIGNOT,
Superintendent of Schools.

COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITIES

SCARLET FEVER

This city of ours will not be a good place to live in unless we make it a good place for all of us to live in. And one of the things we must do in order to produce this result is to all individually and coöperatively strictly observe the sanitary precautions necessary in a time of an epidemic, observe strictly ourselves and help other people with whom we come in contact to do likewise.

The need for this understanding of community responsibility and coöperation was keenly felt and found wanting during the recent outbreak of scarlet fever when the health of our young citizens was imperiled by careless and selfish people who chose to ignore the preventative procedure outlined by the doctors and health authorities.

Furthermore, such willful negligence caused a great drain on the city finances, for our city, lacking an Isolation Hospital, has to provide maintenance for a three-week period for those families in which the bread winner is quarantined.

DENTAL CLINIC

The Dental Clinic conducted by the Dover District Nursing Association continues to function successfully, and notwithstanding the reduced funds available, has expanded its work during the year. Children up to the eighth grade in school are now admitted to the Clinic.

1,248 treatments were rendered during the year 1932. Since the Clinic was established in 1925, a total of 894 children have received treatment. These children are called in for periodical examination and as far as possible all children who have ever been treated are kept under observation. The assistance of the teachers in the public and parochial schools and of the school nurse, who coöperate heartily in this endeavor, is of the greatest value.

COMFORT STATION

True that in our public buildings—City Hall, Police, Fire and Railroad Stations, Library, Hotels and Moving Picture Houses—there are available but not always well-equipped toilet facilities. None of these are centrally accessible after work hours or on holidays and Sundays to people passing through the city. This lack necessitates the use of unprotected places and thereby is produced a breeding place for flies and hence a source of contagion.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM E. WHITELEY,
Executive Officer.

ANNUAL REPORT
of the
BOARD OF TRUSTEES

To the City Councils of the City of Dover:

The duties of the Trustees have been faithfully performed through the year, monthly meetings having been held, except during July and August, and all new books looked over and bills examined.

The notable event of the year has been the receipt on November 28th of the generous bequest, left by the will of Miss Lydia J. Pike, of seven thousand dollars ($7,000.00), the income only to be used for the purchase of new books. This sum is now deposited in the Strafford Savings Bank pending the permanent investment to be made later.

For details of the year's work, reference should be made to the reports of the librarian and treasurer, appended to and made a part of this report.

For the Trustees,

CLARENCE I. HURD,
Secretary.

REPORT OF LIBRARIAN

To the Board of Trustees of the Dover Public Library:

GENTLEMEN:—The report of the librarian showing the work of the library for the year 1932 and previous years is herewith presented.

THE YEAR'S GROWTH

Whole number of volumes January 1, 1932	56,286
Volumes purchased	503
Volumes received by gift	129
Bound periodicals	87
Total number of accessions	719
Received from U. S. Government, 4,500 volumes and pamphlets.
Worn-out volumes withdrawn	441
Total increase for the year	278
Total number of accessioned volumes, Dec. 31, 1932 ..	56,564

In the interests of economy this report should be made as brief as possible. But as this issue carries the date of the fiftieth year of the library's life, it seems only fitting to take at least a glance backward to see what the fifty years have accomplished. The library was established in October, 1883. It was then located in one room, over a paint shop, and reached by a narrow stairway. For equipment it had a few rows of wooden shelves behind a railing, a desk for the librarian, and a narrow counter on which books were charged and discharged. Today, after occupying two other homes, it has a building of its own, with rooms for separate departments, and is equipped with fire-proof steel bookstacks for its circulating department, and has the proper modern furnishings and appliances for its different lines of work.

In 1883, for reference books it had two dictionaries and one set of encyclopedias. Today the reference shelves contain nearly nine hundred volumes besides atlases and maps.

In 1883 it had no reading room, no children's room, no fine arts room, no lecture room and no historical room. Today it has a commodious reading room, furnished with newspapers and magazines; a lecture room that will seat 130 persons; a fine arts room with a large section devoted to music scores, literature, and an unusual collection of bookplates; a children's room with over four thousand books for children; and two historical rooms containing approximately seven thousand volumes, made up of genealogies, town histories, historical magazines, law books and reports, maps, general New Hampshire and Dover literature and over three hundred bound volumes of old-time local newspapers.

This growth has grown hand in hand with the development of the schools and other institutions of the city. It has been in response to the increasing calls upon it made by the public. It has not been due to increasing population for the census figures of 1880 differ from those of 1930 by only seven hundred and eighty-three. It is due to the development of the reading habit on the part of both young and old in this community. In the nearly fifty years of its life, the library has given out for home use more than three million volumes. Who shall say that the reading of these books has not had a practical effect on the life of the city?

During the past year, 73,620 books have been given out for home use, of which 12,130 are from the children's room, a gain of 1,640 over last year. This does not take into account the use of books within the building, which would add a number of thousand more. The routine detail has gone on as usual. Books and pictures have been sent to the schools, renewals and information have been given over the telephone, study clubs have been assisted in their programs, teachers and parents have been aided in their selections for children, and reserve notices for desired books have been sent out regularly.

It is quite unusual for a library and librarian to sustain for so many years a relationship like that existing here. It could not have happened except for the active and friendly coöperation afforded both by assistants and trustees. For this coöperation the librarian desires to express both to assistants and trustees her grateful appreciation and warm thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. GARLAND,
Librarian.
